

Alain Sayad, MD, FAAP

Pediatric Gastroenterologist

LAU Medical Center-Rizk Hospital

Assistant Professor of Pediatrics and Pediatric Gastroenterology

LAU Gilbert and Rose-Marie Chagoury School of Medicine

Dr. Sayad is an Assistant Professor of Pediatrics and Pediatric Gastroenterology and Nutrition at the LAU Medical Center-Rizk Hospital in Beirut, Lebanon.

Dr. Sayad is Board certified by the American Boards of Pediatrics and Pediatric Gastroenterology and Nutrition and is Fellow of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Dr. Sayad obtained his medical degree from Saint Joseph University of Beirut. He completed his pediatric residency at Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Montefiore Medical Center, in New York. He completed his fellowship in Pediatric Gastroenterology and Nutrition at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center, Children's Medical Center in Dallas, Texas.

He also worked in IBD basic research for two years.

Dr. Sayad has a couple of publications in the field of pediatric and pediatric gastroenterology and is a member of several professional organizations such as the North American Society of Pediatric Gastroenterology and Nutrition.

His major scientific interests are : IBD and GERD